Distribution in Japan

Nobukazu AZUMA

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：金 6/Fri.6 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4
Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

This course aims at deepening our understandings of the retail and distribution system. An emphasis is placed on that in Japan. At the end of this course, you'll have acquired hands-on knowledge on (1) the social roles of the distribution system, (2) idiosyncrasies and historical development of the Japanese retailing and distribution system and (3) some of the critical issues surrounding retailing and distribution trades in Japan today.

【Goal】

Through participating in this course, students are expected to acquire fundamental knowledge on various types of distribution channels as well as the social roles that the distribution system plays in a given socio-cultural and economic setting. Students are also given opportunities to compare the distribution system in his / her own country with its Japanese counterpart, making use of related statistics and other secondary sources, together with some fieldworks. Course assignments are designed in a way that students can develop their interests in those retailers, wholesalers or manufacturers that represent the Japanese distribution today.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is fairly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-1", "DP2-2", "DP3", "DP4" and "DP5" diploma policies.

【Method(s)】

This course consists of a combination of lectures, in-class discussions, student-led presentations, and site visit / guest talk.

Human Resource Management I

Yoshio OKUNISHI

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：火 2/Tue.2 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2～4

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

This course is intended to introduce students to the field of human resource management (HRM). Students learn theories and applications involved in effectively managing people in organizations.

Unlike many other fields in business and economics, practices of HRM are influenced greatly by country-specific factors such as labor law, social customs, economic development stage and workforce structure. So, I will spend most time in explaining practices among Japanese firms. But some common theories and international comparative perspectives are introduced as well.

More specifically, HRM I covers such topics as overview and methodology of HRM, environments of Japanese HRM, recruitment, training, promotion, performance evaluation, pay and benefits.

【Goal】

Successful students will acquire basic knowledge of HRM in Japanese firms, as well as problem-solving and critical-thinking skills in the field of human resources and organizations, both of which are applicable to all types of organizations and jobs in which students will eventually work.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP2-2", "DP3" and "DP4" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP1-1" and "DP1-3" policies.

【Method(s)】

For each lecture time, I explain the basic knowledge of a theme, including legal framework, statistical facts and typical perceptions and arguments. Then I encourage students to express their own ideas and discuss them. Occasionally I may ask students for short presentations or reports.

【Active learning in class (Group discussion, Debate.etc.)】

14	Fringe Benefits and Social Security	Complementarity among various parts
		Theory and practices

【Work to be done outside of class (preparation, etc.)】

I urge students to attend every class and to understand the contents well enough within class. To that end, it is essential to review the lecture at home, and to ask questions at the beginning of the next class. Preparatory study and review time for this class are 2 hours each.

【Textbooks】

I do not use any textbooks which students need to purchase. Instead, I will use my own handouts and data sets. But just for your reference, many of my course materials are based on the followings.

【Grading criteria】

Class participation: 20%

Mid-term report/exam: 20%

Final report/exam: 60%

【Changes following student comments】

I want students to ask any questions they may have. Please do not hesitate. I also want to keep more time for discussions, say using case materials.

【Equipment student needs to prepare】

None.

【Others】

HRM I (Fall) and II (Spring) are taught in a sequential manner. So, it is recommended to take both courses in this order if that is possible. Some basic knowledge of economics and organizational behavior is preferred, but not required.

【Prerequisites】

Among GBP subjects, the followings are closely related to this subject although they are not prerequisites: Introduction to Organizational Management, Introduction to Japanese Economy, Organizational Management I/II and Organizational Behavior I/II.

Human Resource Management II

Yoshio OKUNISHI

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：火 2/Tue.2 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4
Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

This course is intended to introduce students to the field of human resource management (HRM). Students learn theories and applications involved in effectively managing people in organizations.

Successful students will acquire basic knowledge of HRM in Japanese firms, as well as problem-solving and critical-thinking skills in the field of human resources and organizations, both of which are applicable to all types of organizations and jobs in which students will eventually work.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP2-2", "DP3" and "DP4" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP1-1" and "DP1-3" policies.

【Method(s)】

Since it is not feasible to have face-to-face lectures in a real classroom, I count on "Hoppii" to distribute course materials and ask you to submit written assignments. If the ICT environments allow, I will occasionally use a video communication tool to supplement written communications.

【Grading criteria】

The final grade will be based on regular writing assignments during the semester. I will not conduct any formal exams separately in this semester.

【Changes following student comments】

I try to increase the proportion of students active participation rather than my lecture.

【Equipment student needs to prepare】

I regularly use Hoppii to upload course materials.

【Others】

HRM I (Fall) and II (Spring) are taught in a sequential manner. So, it is recommended to take both courses in this order if that is possible. Some basic knowledge of economics and organizational behavior is preferred, but not required.

【Prerequisites】

Among GBP subjects, the followings are closely related to this subject although they are not prerequisites: Introduction to Organizational Management, Introduction to Japanese Economy, Organizational Management I/II and Organizational Behavior I/II.

International Business I

Haruo HORAGUCHI

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：TBA | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2～4

Notes：

[Outline and objectives]

Toyota, Tokyo Disney Land (TDL), and All Nippon Airways (ANA) have something in common. What is it? It is their best international business practices, which create excellent products and services. This course is designed to understand the basic ideas of international business. Focusing on the corporate strategy and the organizational capability of the firm, it aims to help students develop the skills required to join these types of companies. The core skills involve understanding the ways in which internationalization strategies enable multinational corporations to enhance their competitiveness and performance in the global economy. The course focuses on multinational corporations confronting an array of choices regarding global markets, locations for production, and decision making processes across borders.

[Goal]

This course provides students with the data, concepts, and models for understanding company performance in the global business. By the end of this course, students will understand corporate strategies designed to improve efficiency in the society and to gain wealth for the nations. Management of international business includes establishing international strategies of ownership, marketing, product development, and operations management. Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to critically evaluate the emerging practices of corporate internationalization. They will also be able to discuss the internationalization of innovative activities such as research and development (R&D).

[Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?]

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-1", "DP2-2", "DP3", "DP4" and "DP5" diploma policies.

[Method(s)]

Classes consist of lectures and group discussion. Much of class time is devoted to examining readings, news paper articles, websites, financial statements, and video materials. Each class will introduce a major theory from international business, which students will apply in the real world after the graduation.

【Changes following student comments】

I will cover less topics this year than last year to give more time to each topic to be covered.

【Others】

To gain better understanding of finance courses, including this course, you are strongly encouraged to take Introduction to Accounting and Introduction to Statistics in your first year at Global Business Program. In addition, this course uses basic mathematics, which will be explained in class very carefully. So, well-motivated students who are not well prepared in mathematics can understand the contents of this class well. Please note that if the number of students showing up in the first class significantly exceeds the expectation of the instructor, the instructor will limit the number of students who are allowed to enroll in this course in order for the instructor to effectively teach the class,

Introduction to Operations Management

Dennis TACHIKI

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：金 4/Fri.4 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：1~4

Notes：

[Outline and objectives]

ON-LINE OUTLINE

THIS ON-LINE COURSE IS ORGANIZED AROUND AN "ACTIVE LEARNING" APPROACH. IN ACTIVE LEARNING, THE STUDENTS ARE ENCOURAGED INDIVIDUALLY (E.G., SELF-STUDY) AND COLLECTIVELY (E.G., GROUP WORK) TO EXPLORE AND DISCOVER THE SUBJECT MATTER'S KEY LEARNING POINTS UNDER THEIR OWN INITIATIVE (WITH SOME TEACHER GUIDANCE OF COURSE). IN THIS CONNECTION, THE CONTENTS OF THIS ON-LINE COURSE REMAINS UNCHANGED FROM THE IN-CLASS COURSE; HOWEVER, YOU WILL RECEIVE YOUR INSTRUCTION THIS SEMESTER THROUGH (1) PRIMARILY THE COURSE HOPPII WEBPAGE'S ASSIGNMENT BOX (WEEKLY), (2) SUPPLEMENTAL ZOOM SESSIONS (3-5 SESSIONS), AND (3) E-MAIL COMMUNICATIONS. PLEASE KEEP IN MIND THAT AN ON-LINE COURSE REQUIRES YOU TO PRACTICE GOOD TIME MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING.

Many students are familiar with the Toyota Production System but fewer are aware it is part of the broader business function of operations management (OM). OM is the process of transforming inputs (raw materials, information) into valued-added outputs (goods and services)—in short, the procurement, assembly and distribution of goods as well as services.

In this connection, the main objective of this introductory OM course is for students to develop a functional understanding of the main concepts and methods informing the subject of OM. Furthermore, special attention will be paid to comparing a Japanese monozukuri approach with other countries. This introduction will then form the foundation for the OMI and OMII courses.

[Goal]

By the end of the course the students should be able to:

- Understand the 3 broad areas of OM: strategic, tactical and operational
- Explain the OM concepts, principles and methods in each of these 3 areas

- Acquire critical thinking skills in analyzing the main issues in OM

The acquisition of these skills will be demonstrated through class/group work participation, assignments and reports/presentations.

[Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?]

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-1", "DP4" and "DP5" diploma policies.

[Method(s)]

THE BEST CLASSROOMS DO NOT HAVE FOUR WALLS: LEARNING TAKES PLACE ANYWHERE, ANY TIME. IN YOUR CLASSROOM, THEN, I WILL EXPECT YOU TO CONDUCT THREE ACTIVITIES. FIRST, PLEASE LOG-IN TO OUR COURSE HOPPII WEBPAGE TO FIND THE REQUIRED READINGS (1-3 PER WEEK). SECOND, ALSO IN OUR COURSE HOPPII WEBPAGE WILL BE A SET OF EXERCISES/ASSIGNMENTS TO DEMONSTRATE YOU COMPREHEND THE SESSION LEARNING POINTS. AND THIRD, WRITE 3 SHORT REPORTS. PLEASE KEEP TO THE STATED DEADLINES.

Introduction to Organizational Management

Azusa Ebisuya

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：金 3/Fri.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：1～4
Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

This course is designed to help undergraduate students in Global Business Program (GBP) understand basic concepts and ideas of organizational management in the world of business. This course teaches the importance of management and its vital roles, organization structures, and effective management of organizations.

【Goal】

The series of lectures in this course will help the students to obtain knowledge of general terms and concepts of organizational management study, and instill further interest and desire to deepen their understanding in this field.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-2" and "DP3" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP4" policy.

【Method(s)】

This course will be delivered mostly through lectures so that the students can obtain basic knowledge of the subject. However, students will have opportunities to actively participate in the class by providing their critical thoughts and suggestions during discussions. Every lecture (from the second lecture onward) will have a terminology quiz covering contents of the previous lecture. In addition, the students will have two written tests (7th and 14th weeks) which will examine their understanding of this course.

Due to the recent epidemic of COVID-19, this course will be given only through the online system throughout the semester. The initial class will be held on May 8th, and the updated and detailed information regarding the course will be provided in LMS (Hoppii) by the initial class.

It was more study at home than in class. - This is true, if you do not prepare enough at home, you won't be able to participate in class discussions or provide your ideas in group projects. Classes are where your learned theories are put into practice (i.e. case studies).

Class did not cover all the content in the syllabus. - This was true. From the homework students submitted, it was found that more time was needed to understand the content. Content has been reduced this year.

More Q&A time was needed. - Will have Q&A time at the beginning of each class.

Introduction to University Study

Kaori KIKUCHI

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：木 3/Thu.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：1～4
Notes：

[Outline and objectives]

This course is designed to help you improve the academic/study skills you are expected to use whilst at university. Course topics include writing skills, critical reading, problem solving, logical/analytical thinking, book review and literature review.

[Goal]

Throughout this course, you will acquire academic/ study strategies and attitudes that will enhance your ability to function effectively in a university environment.

[Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?]

This course is strongly related to the "DP2-1", "DP2-2" and "DP5" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP4" policy.

[Method(s)]

A range of teaching methods will be used including mini-lectures (slideshows), group discussions, and individual exercises. Each lesson will include group and individual exercises to practice the skills discussed. Seminars (slide-shows), practical sessions and assignments will focus on acquainting students with the core academic skills needed to be successful at university.

Naoki KISHIMOTO

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：TBA | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2～4
Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

First, students will be given an easy and concise introduction to basic statistics concepts, such as expectation, standard deviation, and correlation coefficient. Building on these concepts, students will learn an introductory modern portfolio theory, which proposes a method for building an optimal portfolio to a particular investor based on the expectation and the standard deviation of his or her portfolio. Furthermore, students will be exposed to the tradeoff between risk and return in investments, where the discussion will be focused mainly on a particular model for the tradeoff between risk and return, i.e. the Capital Asset Pricing Model.

【Goal】

1. Students can identify which types of securities had the highest return and which had the greatest volatility.
2. Students can compute the average return and the volatility of a security or a portfolio from historical data.
3. Students can understand the tradeoff between risk and return for large portfolios.
4. Students can describe the differences between common and idiosyncratic risk.
5. Students can explain how diversified portfolios remove idiosyncratic risk.
6. Students can calculate the expected return and standard deviation of a portfolio.
7. Students can explain the relation between systematic risk and the market portfolio.
8. Students can measure systematic risk.
9. Students can explain the Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM).

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

1	Introduction and an overview	Administrative business. In addition, students will see an overview of this course.
2	Computation of average returns	Students will learn how to compute the average return on a security or a portfolio.
3	Computation of historical volatility	Students will learn how to compute the volatility of a security or a portfolio from historical data.
4	Normal distribution	Students will see a concise explanation of normal distribution.
5	Historical tradeoff between risk and return	Students will learn how the return and volatility of a portfolio are historically related to each other.
6	Common and idiosyncratic risk	Students will see how the total risk of a portfolio is decomposed into common and idiosyncratic risk. In addition, they will understand the significance of this decomposition.
7	Diversification in stock portfolios	Students will learn how diversification affects the average return and volatility of a stock portfolio.
8	Practical application of the portfolio theory	Students will see practical applications of the portfolio theory.
9	Expected return of a portfolio	Students will learn how the expected return of a portfolio is related to the expected returns of individual assets that comprise the portfolio in question.

10	Variance and standard deviation of a portfolio	Students will learn how the variance or standard deviation of a portfolio is related to the variances and standard deviations of individual assets that comprise the portfolio in question.
11	Variance and standard deviation of a portfolio	Students will learn how the volatilities of individual assets are reflected in the volatility of the portfolio that is composed of those individual assets.
12	Measuring systematic risk	Students will learn how the systematic risk of a security or a portfolio is measured.
13	CAPM	Students will learn the Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM).
14	Practical application of the CAPM	Students will see practical applications of the CAPM.

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

Have you ever heard of derivatives or derivative securities? In general terms, a derivative security is an agreement between two counterparties whose payoff depends on the value of an underlying asset. Derivatives are actively traded throughout the world and their market size is exceedingly large. They include forwards, futures, options, and swaps. This course aims to help students understand the basic aspects of derivative securities and how to value them. Understanding the basics of derivatives will come in very useful to those who consider working in the financial industries in the future. Swaps will not be covered, but briefly discussed, provided that we get ahead of schedule.

【Goal】

Upon completing this course, students will be able to

- 1) understand the characteristics of derivatives.
- 2) understand how forwards are valued.
- 3) understand how futures are valued.
- 4) understand how call and put options are valued.
- 5) solidify an understanding of business and financial news about derivatives market.

Management Accounting

TBA

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：TBA | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4

Notes：

[Outline and objectives]

Management Accounting is an essential tool that enhances a manager's ability to make effective economic decisions. This course teaches students how to extract and modify costs in order to make informed managerial decisions.

The course covers 3 topics.

- 1: After an introduction, we will first focus on the interaction of Management Accounting and the business process. "Cost behavior", "Cost Management Systems" and "Decision Making" are the key issues.
- 2: In the second part, we will use accounting techniques for Planning and Control. "Budgeting", "Variance Analysis" and "Management Control System" will be discussed.
- 3: The last part will be about Capital Budgeting, a technique to evaluate projects having cash flows at different moments in time.

[Goal]

After successfully finalizing this course, students should be able to:

- Use cost-volume-profit analysis in decision taking;
- Use relevant information for decision making, both for pricing and operational decisions;
- Set-up and use a master budget;
- Execute variance analysis;
- Understand, define, and implement management control systems and responsibility accounting;

[Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?]

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-1", "DP1-2" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP2-1", "DP2-2", "DP3", "DP4" policies.

Operations Management I

Dennis TACHIKI

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：金 3/Fri.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2～4
Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

How did the “Made in Japan” image change from shoddy goods in the immediate post-war period to its high quality image today? In answering this question, the focus in Operations Management I is on the role of monozukuri: “making things.” It is important to emphasize monozukuri lies not in the product and the service itself, but in the design process. This process consists of “design information” aimed at “delighting customers” (product development), transcribing it on a “product architecture” (production) and transmitting this “sensory experience” to customers (marketing and sales). Fujimoto (2004) argues this is the key to a Japanese style of manufacturing.

Consequently the main objective of this course is to deepen the students’ understanding of these three aspects of the monozukuri process through case studies. In the first part, we begin with merging the “voice of the customer” with a company’s ‘intrinsic technology’ in new product/service design. In the second part, we will translate these needs and capabilities into operations processes in not only the manufacturing sector, but also the services sector. In the third part, we will examine the information systems underlying a company’s supply chain. These “evolving deep layers in the design process of Japanese companies provide a window for analysing the current status of monozukuri as well as its possible future evolution.

【Goal】

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

- ・ Read and write a case study.
- ・ THEORY: Understand the key concepts and principles constituting monozukuri.
- ・ METHODS: Apply the basic approaches guiding the monozukuri design process. In this connection, students will learn how to read and write a case study.
- ・ TOOLS: Use selected problem-solving techniques in pursuing monozukuri.

These are some of the components of critical thinking so we can begin to “speak with facts and not by guts.”

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the “DP1-1”, “DP2-1”, “DP2-2”, “DP3”, “DP4” and “DP5” diploma policies.

【Method(s)】

Active Learning is the main teaching approach for this course. Active learning requires the students to take the lead in the learning process with the instructor acting as a facilitator. This will be particularly the case in the second half of the semester. Some examples of active learning are pair-discussion, group work, case studies, simulations, presentations, reaction paper, experiential learning, etc. In this course we will learn and use the case study method.

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：金 3/Fri.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4
Notes：

[Outline and objectives]

ON-LINE OUTLINE

THIS ON-LINE COURSE IS ORGANIZED AROUND AN "ACTIVE LEARNING" APPROACH. IN ACTIVE LEARNING, THE STUDENTS ARE ENCOURAGED INDIVIDUALLY (E.G., SELF-STUDY) AND COLLECTIVELY (E.G., GROUP WORK) TO EXPLORE AND DISCOVER THE SUBJECT MATTER'S KEY LEARNING POINTS UNDER THEIR OWN INITIATIVE (WITH SOME TEACHER GUIDANCE OF COURSE). IN THIS CONNECTION, THE CONTENTS OF THIS ON-LINE COURSE REMAINS UNCHANGED FROM THE IN-CLASS COURSE; HOWEVER, YOU WILL RECEIVE YOUR INSTRUCTION THIS SEMESTER THROUGH (1) PRIMARILY THE CLASS HOPPII WEBPAGE'S ASSIGNMENT BOX (WEEKLY), (2) SUPPLEMENTAL ZOOM SESSIONS (3-5 SESSIONS), AND (3) E-MAIL COMMUNICATIONS. PLEASE KEEP IN MIND THAT AN ON-LINE COURSE REQUIRES YOU TO PRACTICE GOOD TIME MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING.

Managing the flow of goods, people, money and information across national borders has become the new challenge for operations managers. So what if you are requested to evaluate and improve the operations management at a local company going global, how would you go about doing it? The traditional operations management answer is to focus on cost and speed issues; but in the 21st century, operations managers must also effectively respond to the challenges presented by globalization, sustainability, ethical conduct, effective communication, and system design. Doing this calls for operations managers to excel in the business, technical, and interpersonal aspects of their work as they actively support the mission and vision of their organization. In addressing these issues, the main objective of this course is to leverage the principles learned in the Introduction to Operations Management course and the tools/methods learned in Operations Management I course, to develop a operations business plan for 7-11 Japan that is applicable in the real world.

[Goal]

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

- ・ TEAMWORK: Understand the skills necessary to cooperate and coordinate a operations project.
- ・ PROJECT MANAGEMENT: Design and implement project-based operations management activities within a company and/or across national borders. In this connection, students will learn how to draft an operations business plan and related documents.
- ・ MANAGEMENT: Appreciate the emerging challenges faced by operations managers in a global economy.

[Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?]

[Grading criteria]

Students will be graded based on the following criterions:

- ・ 10% CLASS PARTICIPATION (I.E., WHETHER YOU HAVE LOG-IN TO OUR COURSE HOPPII WEBPAGE.)
- ・ 30% ASSIGNMENTS
- ・ 60% FINAL REPORT

Late submission of assignments will result in a lowering of a student's grade.

[Changes following student comments]

Inclusion of more supplemental reading materials.

[Equipment student needs to prepare]

STUDENTS ARE EXPECTED TO HAVE INTERNET ACCESS (E.G., WIFI, CABLE, ETC) TO A COMPUTER AND/OR SMART PHONE. IF YOU DO NOT, THEN SEND AN E-MAIL MESSAGE TO INFORM THE PROFESSOR. ALSO INFORM THE PROFESSOR IF YOU EXPERIENCE ANY DIFFICULTIES DURING OUR ZOOM SESSIONS.

[Others]

Students (or teams) should try to meet with the teacher ON-LINE at least once during the semester.

Organizational Behavior II

Makiko NISHIKAWA

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：TBA | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4
Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

Organizational behavior (OB) seeks to understand human behavior in organizational contexts. This course (OB II) will focus on interactive behavior of people in organizations. Topics covered in OB II are; groups, communication, conflict, leadership, power, and trust. As the students' cultural backgrounds vary, comparative aspects will be emphasized.

【Goal】

Students will learn various concepts and theories of organizational behavior, mainly developed in the field of social psychology and sociology. They will also understand how cultural differences affect the attitudes and behavior of people in organizations. They will apply the knowledge and skills learnt in this course to their collective activities and experiences.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to "Sociology", "Social Psychology" and the "DP2-2", "DP4" and "DP5" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP1-1" and "DP3" policies.

【Method(s)】

Each week will focus on a specific topic, and the concepts and theories relevant to the topic will be learnt and discussed. Students will be required to write short essays based on their own cross-cultural experiences, and present them in the class. DVD videos will also be utilized occasionally.

Organizational Management I

Susumu NAGAYAMA

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：TBA | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2～4
Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

This course offers basic theories and practices of organizational management. Forming an organization allows us to pursue higher, more difficult objects, which individuals cannot achieve in their own hands. On the other hand, an organization that is comprised of various types of members might confront problems, such as conflicts among members or handling decisions that no one wants to implement. These problems sometimes cause severe consequences to the organization. What kinds of management do we need to solve these problems, and activate organizations to be more effective and efficient? When it comes to managing the organization, we need to examine both micro-organizational mechanisms (i.e., individual and group mechanisms within the organization) and macro organizational mechanisms (i.e., the whole organization, external environment and dynamic process of the organization). We will study important topics on how to lead and design organization in the autumn term. Then, we study topics on how to manage the planning, organizational change and the external environment in the next spring term.

【Goal】

- (1) In your own words, you can explain the basic theories on organizational management to those who have not studied the organizational theories.
- (2) You can theoretically analyze the problems and practices of organizations, which are shown in the articles that you read on a daily basis.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-1", "DP2-2", "DP4", "DP5" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP3" policies.

【Method(s)】

- Each class proceeds in the following order: learning topics, discussing cases (or engaging in short exercises), giving feedback, summarizing.
- To activate our discussions, making good points or asking questions during class is appreciated (and counts toward your grade).

Principles of Macroeconomics

Mizoguchi Tetsuro

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：火 4/Tue.4 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4
Notes：

[Outline and objectives]

Macroeconomics focuses at the national level, examining the determination of important national variables, such as GDP, the rate of inflation, the level of unemployment, as well as flows of imports and exports and the balance of trade. Course participants will also understand the mechanisms for government policies to improve or hinder economic performance at the macroeconomic level.

[Goal]

This course is an introduction to the field of macroeconomics. It will give you the fundamental idea of the range of behaviors that economists investigate, introduce you to the basic tools that we use to analyze the economy, and apply these tools to government policy issues. Most importantly, this course will introduce you to the “economic way of thinking,” an approach to decision making that applies to personal decisions.

[Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?] This course is strongly related to the “DP1-3”, “DP2-1” and “DP2-2” diploma policies and fairly related to the “DP3”, “DP4” and “DP5” policies.

[Method(s)]

Weekly Lecture and E-learning with questions. The e-learning platform, called “Mindtap”, is developed by Cengage Learning. Because of COVID-19, the class lectures will be held by ZOOM, the web-based online conference system. The beginning of the class is the May 12th.

[Fieldwork in class] なし / No

[Schedule]

No.	Theme	Contents
Class 1	Introduction	Course Overview (Class Objectives, Goals etc).
Class 2	Measuring a Nation's Income	The purpose of this lecture is to provide students with an understanding of the measurement and the use of gross domestic product (GDP). GDP is the single most important measure of the health of the macroeconomy. Indeed, it is the most widely reported statistic in every developed economy.
Class 3	Measuring the Cost of Living	The purpose of this lecture is twofold: first, to show students how to generate a price index and, second, to teach them how to employ a price index to compare dollar figures from different points in time and to adjust interest rates for inflation. In addition, students will learn some of the shortcomings of using the consumer price index as a measure of the cost of living.
Class 4	Production and Growth	The purpose of this lecture is to examine the long-run determinants of both the level and the growth rate of real GDP per person. Along the way, we will discover the factors that determine the productivity of workers and address what governments might do to improve the productivity of their citizens.
Class 5	Saving, Investment, and the Financial System	The purpose of this lecture is to show how saving and investment are coordinated by the loanable funds market. Within the framework of the loanable funds market, we are able to see the effects of taxes and government deficits on saving, investment, the accumulation of capital, and ultimately, the growth rate of output.

Class 6	The Basic Tools of Finance	The purpose of this lecture is to introduce the students to some tools that people use when they participate in financial markets. We will show how people compare different sums of money at different points in time, how they manage risk, and how these concepts combine to help determine the value of a financial asset, such as a share of stock.
Class 7	The Monetary System	The purpose of this lecture is to help students develop an understanding of what money is, what forms money takes, how the banking system helps create money, and how the Federal Reserve controls the quantity of money. An understanding of money is important because the quantity of money affects inflation and interest rates in the long run, and production and employment in the short run.
Class 8	Money Growth and Inflation	The purpose of this lecture is acquaint students with the causes and costs of inflation. Students will find that, in the long run, there is a strong relationship between the growth rate of money and inflation. Students will also find that there are numerous costs to the economy from high inflation, but that there is not a consensus on the importance of these costs when inflation is moderate.
Class 9	Open-Economy Macroeconomics: Basic Concepts	The purpose of this lecture is to develop the basic concepts macroeconomists use to study open economies. It addresses why a nation's net exports must equal its net capital outflow. It also addresses the concepts of the real and nominal exchange rate and develops a theory of exchange rate determination known as purchasing-power parity.
Class 10	A Macroeconomic Theory of Open Economy I	The purpose of this lecture is to establish the interdependence of a number of economic variables in an open economy.
Class 11	A Macroeconomic Theory of Open Economy II	This lecture demonstrates the relationships between the prices and quantities in the market for loanable funds and the prices and quantities in the market for foreign-currency exchange. Using these markets, we can analyze the impact of a variety of government policies on an economy's exchange rate and trade balance.
Class 12	Aggregate Demand and Aggregate Supply I	The purpose of this lecture is to develop the model economists use to analyze the economy's short-run fluctuations — the model of aggregate demand and aggregate supply. Students will learn about some of the sources for shifts in the aggregate-demand curve and the aggregate-supply curve and how these shifts can cause recessions.
Class 13	Aggregate Demand and Aggregate Supply II	Based on the lecture of Class 13, this lecture introduces actions policymakers might undertake to offset recessions.

Class 14	The Influence of Monetary and Fiscal Policy on Aggregate Demand	The purpose of this lecture to address the short-run effects of monetary and fiscal policies. In Chapter 33, we found that when aggregate demand or short-run aggregate supply shifts, it causes fluctuations in output. As a result, policymakers sometimes try to offset these shifts by shifting aggregate demand with monetary and fiscal policy. Chapter 34 addresses the theory behind these policies and some of the shortcomings of stabilization policy.

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：木 3/Thu.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4
Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

The theme of this class is to understand major Marketing theories and bridge them to specific phenomena. Companies and other organizations try differentiating themselves from competitors by creating customer values. The students of this class would be able to analyze the products and services in the real world with Marketing perspective.

【Goal】

By actively participating in this class, student can acquire the following skills:

- 1) Bridge theories to specific phenomena
- 2) Think logically
- 3) Use qualitative methodologies for research activities, and
- 4) Argue and explain findings to others

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP2-1" diploma policy and fairly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-2", and "DP3" policies.

【Method(s)】

Recently many companies struggle with difficulties to differentiate themselves with competitors. One of the reasons is that the change of customer needs. Customers not only ask for high quality/specification products but also they try to obtain "value". What does value mean? This is the major topic of this class. Manufacturers, retailers and service providers try developing and innovating business model for creating customer value. Using specific case studies, students would learn theoretical frameworks and analytical concepts in order to apply them to the phenomena.

Students use qualitative methodologies, in specific interviews and fieldwork to gather primary data by using their own legs. (Students will not be permitted to use secondary data from the Internet unless it is allowed.)

Assignments will be given and each student will make his/her own presentation respectively. Group projects will be assigned for the final presentation. Each group will choose one product/service and research how it was successful by using Marketing theory the instructor indicates.

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：火 3/Tue.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2～4

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

This class aims to help with the understanding of basic concepts and analytical methods of microeconomics at the introductory level. It focuses on decision-making of individuals and firms and the allocation of scarce resources in society. Topics are Supply and Demand, Equilibrium, Welfare Economics, The Role of Government in Markets, Markets and Competition, and Market Failure. Also, how microeconomics principles are applicable to the real world issues as well as to other academic fields will be discussed.

【Goal】

By the end of the course, students will be expected to:

- (1) Understand key economic models.
- (2) Understand key concepts in the textbook.
- (3) Acquire basic skills in order to make graphs and mathematical formulas.
- (4) Solve problem sets.
- (5) Evaluate daily life topics and current economic and business news from the viewpoint of microeconomic theory.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-3", "DP2-1" and "DP2-2" diploma policies.

【Method(s)】

This course consists mainly of lectures and subsequent exercises. After understanding the basic idea of microeconomics, students will solve problems and take quizzes in class. Also, problems will be assigned as homework. Students are required to use the online learning software, MindTap, to do homework. All materials including lecture notes will be posted on either MindTap or Hosei's class support online system, "H'etudes".

【Outline and objectives】

One of most important skills which companies want from business students is Digital Business Management. This course is structured to give students basic, fundamental understandings of digital impact on businesses. The course provides students with a wide variety of contemporary topics in digital technology and management, most of which have been in ongoing discussion inside many companies globally. In particular, topics in this term will include;

- Internet of Things (IoT)
- Artificial Intelligence (AI)
- Robotics
- Digital Engineering
- etc.

【Goal】

To present a clear view of digital technology' roles in Japanese/global businesses today, this course takes the digital management point of view with emphasizing the creation and implementation of strategically important initiatives in organizations. The course should be of particular interest to those interested in understanding IT related issues which most companies are facing with, and involving themselves with practices which are likely to play a major role.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-1", "DP2-2", "DP4" and "DP5" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP3" policy.

【Method(s)】

The course uses a combination of taking lectures by VOD (Video On Demand), learning from public videos, and writing papers and/or online presentation for students to understand course material considering on-going difficult situations due to Covid-19. You do not need to show up at our classroom at all, instead, must learn this course contents at your convenient and safe places including your home country and/or town. In accordance with the current guideline of class schedule by Hosei University, this class will start from April 27th, 2020 by providing students with class materials via Class Support System. The registered students will be able to receive VOD information and other materials every week from May 4th.

[Outline and objectives]

This course will teach the students how the place where you grew up shapes the way you think, feel, and act. We will employ the Hofstede's concept of cultures and organizations for discussing how national cultures differ in the areas of inequality, assertiveness versus modesty, and tolerance for ambiguity. We will also deepen our understanding of stereotyping, differences in language, cultural roots, and other intercultural dynamics.

[Goal]

By the ending of this course, the students are expected to be able to explain what the "moral circles" that Hofstede et al. introduced are, and how the national/organizational cultures affect how people think, feel, and behave. The students also are expected to be able to share their thoughts and opinions with classmates actively through the interactive learning experiences.

【Outline and objectives】

ON-LINE OUTLINE

THIS ON-LINE COURSE IS ORGANIZED AROUND AN "ACTIVE LEARNING" APPROACH. IN ACTIVE LEARNING, THE STUDENTS ARE ENCOURAGED INDIVIDUALLY (E.G., SELF-STUDY) AND COLLECTIVELY (E.G., GROUP WORK) TO EXPLORE AND DISCOVER THE SUBJECT MATTER'S KEY LEARNING POINTS UNDER THEIR OWN INITIATIVE (WITH SOME TEACHER GUIDANCE OF COURSE). IN THIS CONNECTION, THE CONTENTS OF THIS ON-LINE COURSE REMAINS UNCHANGED FROM THE IN-CLASS COURSE; HOWEVER, YOU WILL RECEIVE YOUR INSTRUCTION THIS SEMESTER THROUGH (1) PRIMARILY THE CLASS HOPPII WEBPAGE'S ASSIGNMENT BOX (WEEKLY), (2) SUPPLEMENTAL ZOOM SESSIONS (3-5 SESSIONS), AND (3) E-MAIL COMMUNICATIONS. PLEASE KEEP IN MIND THAT AN ON-LINE COURSE REQUIRES YOU TO PRACTICE GOOD TIME MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING.

This seminar is a continuation of the Fall course focusing on international public projects (IPP)—that is, a project financed by a government and is typically owned, and may be operated by the government. The financing of IPP is through overseas development assistance (ODA). ODA refers to money developed countries provide to promote economic development and public welfare in developing countries. For example, after World War II, the World Bank provided ODA to Japan for building its national infrastructure systems (highways, telecommunications, harbors, dams, etc) and more famously the Shinkansen (bullet train). Now that Japan is a developed country, the main agency responsible for dispersing Japanese ODA is the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA). JICA IPP are mainly related to the United Nations' MDGs (Millennium Development Goals) in such areas as poverty alleviation, environmental issues and social issues, such as gender equality, and other goals.

In this connection, the main objective of this course is for students to develop and write their own IPP.

This seminar should become a valuable learning opportunity for students who wish to find employment after graduation in international organizations.

【Goal】

By the end of the course, students should be able to:

- ・ Understand and explain the purpose and role of international public projects.
- ・ Apply the problem solving tools required to implement the Project Cycle Method
- ・ Write and use an Inception Report.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-1", "DP2-2", "DP4" and "DP5" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP3" policy.

FIRST, PLEASE LOG-IN TO OUR COURSE HOPPII WEBPAGE TO FIND THE REQUIRED READING (1-3 PER WEEK). SECOND, ALSO IN OUR COURSE HOPPII WEBPAGE WILL BE A SET OF EXERCISES/ASSIGNMENTS TO DEMONSTRATE YOU COMPREHEND THE SESSION LEARNING POINTS. AND THIRD, WRITE 3 SHORT REPORTS. Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：木 3/Thu.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

The theme of this class is to research and understand Service Management theories from both Marketing and consumer behavior perspectives.

Organizations and companies would differentiate themselves from competitors only when they create customer values. The students of this class learn the logic of value creation.

【Goal】

By actively participating in this class, students can acquire the following skills:

- 1) bridge theories to specific phenomena
- 2) think logically
- 3) use qualitative methodologies for research, and
- 4) argue and explain theoretical and practical findings to others

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is fairly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-1", "DP2-2" and "DP3" policies.

【Method(s)】

Class starts at 13:00 on April 23rd.

Students need to access ZOOM meeting and class will be conducted with face-to-face online communication.

Please contact the instructor at kimura@hosei.ac.jp when you have any problems or concerns.

Recently many researchers in Marketing focus on Service Management regarding it as competitive advantage. Not only service industry but also manufacturers and retailers try developing and innovating business model for creating customer value.

Using specific phenomena related to customer value creation in Japan and other countries, students will learn theoretical frameworks and apply them to the phenomena to explain the reality.

Students will use qualitative methodologies, mainly interviews and fieldwork to gather primary data to make presentations by using their own legs. (Students will not be permitted to use secondary data from the Internet unless it is statistical data.)

Assignments will be given and each student will make his/her own presentation respectively. Group projects will be assigned for the final presentation. Each group will choose one product/service and research how the company was successful in Service Profit Chain perspective.

Workshop I

Keiko OKAMOTO

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：水 4/Wed.4 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2～4

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

The purpose of this course is to understand the significance of Japanese products that Japanese companies deal with and their strategic differences depending on the products and customers.

【Goal】

Students will learn the present business environment in Japan through guest speakers' business/social experiences. Students will also put themselves in the guest speaker's working environment and identify and solve the problems following the guest speakers' lead. Students also create their own career plan in a case study.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP2-1", "DP2-2" and "DP3" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP1-1", "DP4" and "DP5" policies.

【Method(s)】

During the course, four guest speakers will introduce their business and social experiences. What brought them to the present situation? What industry are they in? What are their products/services? What are their marketing strategies? Why are their products/services superior to their competitors? A discussion will be held after each presentation. Students will also do background research and follow up activities on each speaker's topic. Students will write essays (academic writing), join group discussions, and give presentations during the course.

Workshop II

Azusa Ebisuya

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：金 4/Fri.4 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：2~4

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

Many Japanese enterprises are top runners in manufacturing and information technology industries, and have positively influenced the rest of the world by leading technological innovation and development. Despite such successes, many Japanese enterprises are tackling issues related to internationalization within the headquarters, standardization between the headquarters and its subsidiaries, and language management of international employees. This course will provide students with opportunities to understand the mechanics behind the scene for innovation in the face of challenges and hear real-life scenarios from practitioners, as well as get to know them personally.

【Goal】

Students are expected to obtain knowledge of the Japanese cutting-edge technological industry and its global influence. In addition, students are expected to obtain understanding on critical issues faced by Japanese companies in this global era, and how these issues are being tackled. Students will be able to effectively blend in with the Japanese community and/or work environments based on the knowledge obtained through this course.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

This course is strongly related to the "DP1-1", "DP2-2" and "DP4" diploma policies and fairly related to the "DP1-4" and "DP3" policies.

【Method(s)】

This course will comprise meaningful talks by practitioners, question and answer sessions, and discussions. The guest speakers will be invited from Japanese companies located in Tokyo and surrounding area, which include both big and small-to-medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). This way, students can easily grasp the differences in the type and scale of the issues, as well as the approaches to solutions between large corporations and SMEs.

Due to the recent epidemic of COVID-19, this course will be given only through the online system throughout the semester. The initial class will be held on May 8th, and the updated and detailed information regarding the course will be provided in LMS (Hoppii) by the initial class.

College Writing A

Thomas G. Power

Subtitle：

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：火 3/Tue.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：1～4

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

College Writing A introduces the formal structures and styles of academic writing. The course focuses on two primary areas. The first is essay organization: we will examine the fundamentals of outlining and structuring essays as well as practice writing a variety of essay forms. The second is academic language: we will study the specific vocabulary, conventions, and styles of writing particular to university research. Additionally, this class will build confidence and competence in writing more generally, preparing you for College Writing B, in which you will write a formal research paper.

【Goal】

The course aims to build competence in the following tasks:

1. Planning and organizing a major research paper.
2. Choosing, evaluating, and using academic sources.
3. Building on previous research in developing original research contribution.
4. Proofreading, editing, and revising research papers.
5. Research using information from class materials and outside sources.
6. Write essays in an academic style (APA Style for this course).
7. Discuss topics in small groups related to reading materials.
8. Make presentations in an academic style to the class.
9. Synthesize information and ideas.
10. Express opinions and support them with examples from a text or from your own experience and /or cultural background.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

【Method(s)】

Each class consists of a short lecture or demonstration of academic writing principles and a number of writing or editing exercises, as well as discussion activities. Often we will work together on exercises, both in small groups and as a class. we will also share and edit each other's writing, so students should grow accustomed to both giving and receiving constructive feedback on assignments.

Assignments must be completed in a timely manner. All work done in this course is to prepare for a final paper which is due in the final class.

Week 1	Orientation	Outline of what you learn throughout the course is briefly explained. Also self-introduction by the instructor and each participant is planned. You should introduce yourself by saying such as (1) the town where I was born, (2) why I decided to study in Japan and at Hosei Univ., (3) what I am interested in doing and achieving during study abroad.
Week 2	Higher Education and Career Development	By understanding the current situation of increasing youth unemployment and non-regular employment in Japan, you should learn how important it is to make a proper job selection and its influence on your career formation.
Week 3	Telling a Life Story to Know Yourself	Understanding about yourself better is the first step that you should take to find a job that suits you and develop your career later on. So let's learn what a life story telling is, how it works to know you better and experience it with the other class members.
Week 4	Presentation of Your Life Story	This is the time for you to talk about a story highlighting a memorable moment to review how your personality, interests, sense of values, abilities and life style have been influenced by it and let others get to know you better.
week 5	Fundamental Skills for a Working Person	There are a couple of fundamental skills that you need to know and acquire before you enter the world of work in Japan. These are minimum requirements from society for any new worker and highly valued in Japan.
Week 6	Intercultural Competence	The world we live in today is getting more and more globalized and interdependent. So you will very likely to work with people speaking different languages, having different sense of values, behaviors and customs based on their cultural backgrounds. How can you get along with them?
Week 7	Life Roles and Career Development	People today may live longer than their parents did. So you may have more works to do and roles to play in your entire life course. Think about what those life roles are and how you can balance them with your job and career in order to maintain quality of your life.
Week 8	Personality and Work Environment for Job Selection	You will learn about several personality types, relationship between people of each personality type and their preferred job environment to know what job will likely to match your personality type through an occupational interest test.
Week 9	Corporate Culture and Business Practice	If you want to get and maintain a job and pursue a career in Japan you should know about the cultural characteristics of the company and its business practices to get along with the other members of the team.

Week 10	Human Resource Management in Japan	Human resource management plays a very important role for the operation and functions of the company. So you need to know what and how they proceed with the daily work.	[None] None [None] None [None] None
Week 11	Japanese MSC (Medium to Small Sized Companies) as Your Job Targets	The Japanese economy has been supported by and dependent on a large number of MSC (medium to small sized companies). In this respect you should know more about them and consider them as potential candidates of your job hunting in the future.	[] This course aims to enhance consciousness and practical knowledge about a job and a career of the international students who want to work in Japan. For this purpose the course will mainly cover areas such as knowing oneself, thinking about a job and a career and understanding the Japanese society including such as company's human resource management system, business practices, corporate culture and others that are indispensable for the international student to understand to prepare for the job hunting activities in Japan.
Week 12	How Japanese Company Recruits and Fosters Young Employees	Even if you could successfully get a job offer, you would probably be not so confident in your ability to cope with the job requirements. But you do not need to worry too much about it if you knew how Japanese company helps foster young employees.
Week 13	Lecture by the Guest Speaker	Hearing stories from the people working and ask questions about pros and cons of working in Japan will give you good insights and hints when you select your job and career.
Week 14	Review and Report Writing	You will review what you learned and considered in this course and write a final report about it. Your report must also include what you would like to be and work for based on your understanding of yourself, job and career, Japanese society and the world of work today.

[Work to be done outside of class (preparation, etc.)]

This course requires preparation and review of around 4 hours a week for a two-credit course.

Subtitle : Global and Regional Governance

Term : 春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s) : 2 | Day/Period : 月 3/Mon.3 | Campus : 市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade : 1~4

Notes :

[Outline and objectives]

This course aims at providing students with an overview of the phenomenon, great in both scale and scope, styled 'international organizations' in its diversity and unity.

The course starts by focusing on the concept of international organization proper, and examines how these are inherently political societies wherein power happens and is organized according to certain structures. The course then moves on modalities for international organizations interacting with both each other and States, with a particular attention given to functions organizations perform amid the international society.

[Goal]

By the end of the course, it is expected that students:

1. acquire a good understanding of the nature of international organizations
2. have a grasp of the common principles according to which international organizations operate
3. have a concrete knowledge of several international organizations
4. acquire a critical understanding of the roles and functions that international organizations perform amid the global society, as well as issues and challenges pertaining thereto

[Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?]

[Method(s)]

Classes consist in discussion, documents study, and lecture.

Students will be required to apply analytical frameworks they learned during class by conducting a research on an organization of their choice that will result in a presentation during the second half of the semester. This will be performed collectively or individually depending on the number of students attending the course.

The first class will occur on April 27, at 13:00 as scheduled. Students will be provided with further information by email and on Hoppii. Please check announcements on Hoppii and report on your capacity to attend classes online.

Subtitle：Mathematics B

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：木 5/Thu.5 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：1～4

Notes：

[Outline and objectives]

This course is a calculus course intended for those studying business, economics, or other related business majors, and a continuation of topics from "Elementary Mathematics II". The following topics are presented with applications: derivatives, differentiation rules, derivative of an exponential function and logarithmic function, higher-order derivative, Taylor and Maclaurin series, integrals.

[Goal]

Students will become proficient in techniques of differentiation, understand the concept of rate of change and how to use it to solve real world problems.

[Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?]

[Method(s)]

The expected learning outcomes for the course will be assessed through graded activities and ungraded activities. The graded activities include exams, homework and quizzes. It is strongly recommended that students work all those problems since homework and test score are used to determine your grade. The ungraded activities will be used to monitor your progress.

【Outline and objectives】

This course will seek to introduce the culture & society of contemporary Britain to students through a series of stimulation audio-visual units, together with selected thematically linked readings.

【Goal】

During this course, through regular exposure to a variety of audio-visual material, students will have the opportunity to sharpen their listening skills. Follow-up pair-work comprehension questions, discussion & structured conversation practice will also give them the opportunity to improve their oral skills. Finally students will be encouraged to reflect on their own culture & society as they learn about UK.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

【Method(s)】

The previous lesson's reading assignment will be reviewed before a pair-work preview will introduce the theme for that lesson. Any required vocabulary will be previewed before students view/listen to the material.

Pair-work comprehension questions will allow students to check their own understanding, while a post-viewing discussion will offer more chances to analyze the material. Time permitting, there will be structured conversation practice before outlining the following week's homework.

【Outline and objectives】

This course is designed for students who need calculus to study business, economics, or other related business majors. In particular, the course will review the basic ideas you need to start calculus. The topics include exponential and logarithmic functions, arithmetic and geometric sequences, graphing basic functions, graphing exponential and logarithmic functions, limit of a sequence, limit of a function.

【Goal】

At the end of this course, students will demonstrate the ability to perform different operations involving algebraic expressions, to graph linear and quadratic functions, and to graph polynomial, rational, algebraic, exponential and logarithmic functions.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

【Method(s)】

The expected learning outcomes for the course will be assessed through graded activities and ungraded activities. The graded activities include exams, homework and quizzes. It is strongly recommended that students work all those problems since homework and test score are used to determine your grade. The ungraded activities will be used to monitor your progress.

Subtitle：Academic Literacy II

Term：春学期授業/Spring | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：火 4/Tue.4 | Campus：市ヶ谷 / Ichigaya | Grade：1～4

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

The aim of Academic Literacy B is to provide students with opportunities to improve their academic skills, think critically, and present their opinions effectively in discussions, written responses, and presentations. This course is designed to help students to further develop transferable academic skills necessary for success in a university setting.

【Goal】

The course textbook, University Success Oral Communications, Transition Level, “builds essential skills that prepare students to understand and process lengthy academic lectures, defend their ideas, utilize the text to present concepts, speak thoughtfully in discussions, and contribute to group projects. Authentic lectures delivered by top professors from Stanford University provide real-life learning experiences.”

Each unit has three parts: 1) fundamental oral communication skills, 2) critical thinking skills, and 3) extended lectures. Students will read articles and listen to lectures on topics related to biology, humanities, environmental engineering, and other disciplines.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

【Method(s)】

Active participation is essential. Students will improve their academic skills and social skills through participation in pair and group activities, lectures, discussions, presentations, and written assignments. Homework will be given each week to prepare students for the following class.

Week 2	Unit 3 Biology Part 1	Fundamental skills: Participate in extended discussions, respond to controversial topics, lead discussions and debate techniques.
Week 3	Unit 1 Biology Part 2	Critical thinking skills: Understand and present processes, identify structure and purpose of a process presentation, explain a complex process, use generalizations and specific information.
Week 4	Unit 3 Biology Part 3	Extended lecture: "Are Virus Alive?" by a Stanford professor. Research, prepare, and have a panel discussion or deliver an individual presentation.

Week 5	Reading and Writing Skills	Review academic skills: Note-taking, paraphrasing, summarizing, citing sources, vocabulary-building, and discussion techniques.
Week 6	Unit 4 Humanities Part 1	Fundamental skills: Recognize speaking styles, identify emphatic argumentation and succinct cohesion in presentations and discussions.
Week 7	Unit 4 Humanities Part 2	Critical thinking skills: Make analogies, use metaphors and similes, make assumptions, assess the quality of a conclusion, and use colloquial language.
Week 8	Unit 4 Humanities Part 3	Extended lecture: "Love and Education" by a Stanford professor. Prepare and have a panel discussion, or research and deliver an individual presentation.
Week 9	Research Methods APA style	In-text citation and reference list; quoting and paraphrasing in presentations and research papers. Essay format and structure
Week 10	Unit 5 Environmental Engineering Part 1	Fundamental skills: Connect visuals to a lecture, read and interpret complex visuals, synthesize text into a visual, create and communicate visuals.
Week 11	Unit 5 Environmental Engineering Part 2	Critical thinking skills: Summarize and synthesize research, present well-integrated research, present a research report, source academic references.
Week 12	Unit 5 Environmental Engineering Part 3	Extended lecture: "Air Filtration Systems for the Home" by a Stanford professor. Research, prepare, and have a class debate for and against a topic covered, or prepare and deliver an information group presentation..
Week 13	Preparation of final reports	Review reading, discussion, research, and presentations skills.
Week 14	Review and final assessment	Submission of final reports. Comments.

【Work to be done outside of class (preparation, etc.)】

Homework assignments, reading materials, and in-class worksheets will be assigned. All student presentations are to be researched outside class and reflect students' research. Most presentations will have both a written and visual component.

University guidelines suggest preparation and review are around 4 hours a week for a two-credit course and around an hour a week for a one-credit course.

Notes :

【Outline and objectives】

This course will provide students with a rough picture of law. It does so by introducing basic legal concepts.

The first part of the course introduces two main faces of law: justice and order. The second part focuses on the components of a legal order, which are mainly subjects and norms. The third and last part deals with the notion of legal relations, which are either horizontal or vertical in nature.

【Goal】

By attending this course, students will be able to:

- understand basic legal concepts,
- build a foundation for studying more specialized fields of law,
- acquire basic legal knowledge that will complement their studies in other fields,
- handle better daily life situations by acquiring a feeling of what is legally correct and what is not, which will hopefully help them to remain free from abuses.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

【Method(s)】

The course will introduce one new concept each week. In so doing, the class will consist in lecture and discussion. In addition, the course will rely on studying excerpts from classical works. Practice for this course will consist in text commentaries.

The course follows a progression so that each class is dependent on previous classes; hence, students may find it easier to follow classes if they have consistent attendance.

【Grading criteria】

Class participation: 50%

- Students may miss class only if it qualifies as an excused absence (e.g., an illness or a grievance). Please clear your absences with the instructor beforehand. Three or more unexcused absences can result in Failure.

- Each student must show up to class on time. If you are tardy, it will count against your attendance.

- You are required to actively participate in class activities and discussion. Make sure to do the readings prior to class. All students will post short reading responses to the course website (H'etudes) on the day before each class, so that we can share your opinions, ideas, questions, etc.

Research paper: 50% (Draft: 20%, Final Version: 30%)

- Toward the end of the semester, students choose their own topic and write a short (1,000 to 1,500 words) research paper. Further details to be provided in class.

- When students submit the draft, they will have feedbacks from the fellow students as well as the instructor. Then students will revise their draft for the final version based on the comments.

【Changes following student comments】

The instructor will try to facilitate more active discussions.

[Equipment student needs to prepare]

The instructor may request that students use a computer, tablet or smartphone in order to fact-check during class. (Computers, tablets and smartphones may not be used other than as authorized.)

This course introduces the experiences of Americans of Asian descent as one aspect of social interaction across the Pacific. Students will read selected articles about their diverse history from the mid-nineteenth century to the present. We will explore core issues, which include migration, integration and exclusion, and social movements, while paying attention to the political interaction between the U.S. and Asia.

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

In today's globalization, we are increasingly required to interact internationally across linguistic and cultural borders. Misunderstandings and conflicts are bound to occur, which calls for constructive dialogues and creative solutions. In this course, we will focus primarily on "invisible culture" to deepen your understanding of diversity in cultural orientations, values, behavior, and language uses. You will also reflect on your intercultural experiences and explore your multicultural identities while studying dynamic cultural dimensions.

【Goal】

In this course, you will 1) cultivate your understanding of the relationships between culture, language, and identity, 2) be able to analyze examples of and reasons for intercultural clashes and relate to others respectfully to come up with constructive solutions to intercultural issues and confusions, 3) be able to use concepts such as stereotypes, generalizations, othering, and marginalization in your analysis, 4) reflect on your intercultural experiences and multicultural identities.

Without cultural knowledge, language users may not fully understand the meaning of a message. Even with perfect grammar, we could completely offend our conversational partners without using language in a culturally suitable manner. In this course, we will take a close look at the face-saving strategies used in world languages. We will also consider and discuss diverse cultural values and orientations that are closely connected to verbal and non-verbal behavior. This enhanced linguistic and cultural awareness will help you become a more tactful and respectful user of your first and second languages and prepare you for effective intercultural communication.

【Goal】

In this course, you will become able to 1) cultivate your understanding of the relationship between language form, meaning, and context, 2) become familiar with the notions of face and politeness, 3) collect and analyze authentic language samples, 3) understand cultural values and orientations behind language use in world languages. The course will also provide an opportunity for you to reflect on intercultural misunderstandings and respectful communication strategies with which to relate to others.

【Outline and objectives】

Have you learned an additional language through music, film, poetry, stories, novels, or any other forms of art? What was your experience like? In this course, we start by discussing why art facilitates learning, especially second language acquisition. You will then experience various forms of art incorporated into language learning and teaching through the modeling by the instructor as well as through peer teaching. We are also going to discuss social activism expressed through artwork and research activism in the world.

【Goal】

In this course, you will：1) understand and appreciate artistic forms of language education, 2) understand social activism behind artistic expression, and 3) participate in an art-based approach to language learning/teaching using your creativity. You will also reflect on your own reactions to an artistic approach to language education and social justice and consider how this learning may influence your identities and worldview.

Message to the course participants:

This is a relatively new course that opened in the spring of 2019. We had fascinating discussion and both students and I learned a great deal! This course is conducted in English. Students must be competent speakers of English (native or proficient with TOEFL® iBT 61+ or equivalent). If your scores are TOEFL® iBT 61 - 100, you can take this course but be ready to make a little more thorough preparation each week.

If you are interested in language teaching, you're an excellent fit for this class. If you are more of a learner who likes the fun of language and art, you are also welcome. I expect international and Japanese students of all majors to work collaboratively despite their different cultural and linguistic backgrounds. Come with an open mind and learn from each other!

【Equipment student needs to prepare】

1) Regular attendance is essential in order to benefit from the interactive nature of this course. You will not be able to pass this course if you miss more than three class periods a semester except in extreme circumstances.

2) If you have a good reason for your absence, you are responsible for informing me in person or by e-mail. When you miss class, it is your responsibility to find out what course material and assignments you missed. Never plan to miss your presentations.

3) Come to class on time. Two latenesses beyond 10 minutes equal one absence, except in extreme circumstances. If you are late, come to me after class to straighten out the record of your absence.

4) You are expected to study course material before class and participate actively. Respect each other and others' learning opportunity. Work hard, make mistakes, and have fun!

Term：秋学期授業/Fall | Credit(s)：2 | Day/Period：月3/Mon.3 | Campus：市ヶ谷/Ichigaya | Grade：1～4

Notes：

【Outline and objectives】

The UN 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, or Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) have come to be recognized as common tasks for the human society, which is, in a way, a manifestation of the severity of various problems we as a species are faced with. In light of this current situation, this course focuses on the concept of "sustainability" so as to provide students with an opportunity to learn about basic scientific aspects of environmental problems and also to learn about relevant social issues in an attempt to provide a view from a wider perspective.

【Goal】

This course is designed to teach about ecological and social issues. Therefore, the course objectives are 1) to understand basic scientific concepts required to comprehend various environmental problems, 2) to understand social problems related to the environmental problems dealt with in this course, and 3) to understand interrelated nature of these problems to grasp the big picture of the current state of human society.

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

【Method(s)】

Although this course deals with various topics from the perspective of "sustainability", the course is divided roughly into two parts. In the first part, students will learn about the basic features of ecosystem and biodiversity, that is to say, natural world that surrounds us and provides us with various essential resources. The second part will focus on environmental and social problems related to agriculture (food production) and use of other natural resources in order to explore our personal involvement in these issues. The course will be taught entirely in English, and, although the course material will be presented in a series of lectures, videos, group activities, and discussions will also be utilized in combination when appropriate.

Week 1	Understanding sustainability and basic features of ecosystem	As an introduction to the course, the concept of sustainability and the basic features of ecosystem will be discussed.
Week 2	Atmospheric changes and their consequences	In light of the ongoing "climate crisis", the composition of the Earth's atmosphere and consequences of atmospheric changes will be discussed.
Week 3	Water cycle and the use of water resource	Water will be focused as an essential matter for sustaining life and ecosystem, and the water cycle and use of water resource will be discussed.

Week 4	Energy supply	Energy supply in ecosystem and energy issue in the human society will be discussed.
Week 5	What is "soil"?	The importance of soil in an ecosystem will be discussed in relation to ongoing environmental problems
Week 6	What is biodiversity and why is it important?	Basic features and current state of biodiversity will be discussed in relation to its importance for the human society.
Week 7	Applied ecology for sustainable resource management	Group activity is used to integrate the concepts learned in the previous lectures and apply them to ecological problem solving.
Week 8	Ecological issues of modern agriculture	Positive and negative impacts of agricultural modernization will be discussed.
Week 9	Food production and environmental conservation	Approaches to achieving food security without degrading environment will be discussed with concrete examples.
Week 10	Is resource development sustainable?	Focusing on mineral resources, issues related to demand and supply of natural resources will be discussed.
Week 11	Consequences of "unwanted" development	Environmental and social problems caused by "development" in the developing world will be discussed.
Week 12	Understanding multi-stakeholder problem solving	Group work will be used to integrate the concepts learned in the previous lectures and apply them to socio-ecological problem solving.
Week 13	Toward a sustainable society	Alternative models that may help build a sustainable society will be discussed.
Week 14	What is happening in the global environment and where do we go from here?	The course contents will be reviewed to grasp the current state of the global environment, and future prospects will be discussed.

【Work to be done outside of class (preparation, etc.)】

Students are expected to review contents of individual lectures, thoroughly read distributed reading materials, and utilize the online learning support system as needed. Standard amounts of time to be spent for this purpose are two hours each for preparation and review.

【Textbooks】

None. Reading materials will be distributed as needed.

【References】

To be announced as needed.

【Grading criteria】

Student performance will be graded based on quizzes (40%), in-class participation (30%), and writing assignments (30%).

【Changes following student comments】

It has been a challenge to more actively involve students in the learning process. However, group activities appear to be effective in addressing such an issue, and additional efforts to provide such opportunities will be made.

【Outline and objectives】

By what process are policies coordinated and actions concerted with regard to global issues? How and by whom are these processes organized and structured? Treating global governance as a process, this course examines how global governance functions at both international and regional levels through cases of Europe and East Asia. Henceforth, the course considers how these different levels of governance interact with regard to three different global issues and the policies built in response thereto in the two areas studied.

【Goal】

By the end of the course, students are expected to have acquired:

1. a good understanding of the structures and processes of global governance at both international and regional levels
2. a firm grasp of the diversity of actors involved in the global governance process
3. comprehension of the specific characters of global governance and corresponding issues and challenges

【Which item of the diploma policy will be obtained by taking this class?】

【Method(s)】

Classes consist in discussion, documents study, and lecture. Students will be required to apply analytical frameworks they learned during class by conducting a research on an organization of their choice that will result in a presentation during the second half of the semester (starting week 9) and a written report to be submitted at the end of the semester. This will be performed collectively or individually depending on the number of students attending the course.
